Burnsville & The Heart of the City

Burnsville is a city located 15 miles south of Downtown Minneapolis, bordering the south bank of the Minnesota River. Highways I-35W and I-35E run through Burnsville and converge near the city center. Burnsville is conveniently located just a short drive away from many metropolitan area attractions like the Mall of America, Valley Fair Amusement Park, and the Minneapolis-St. Paul International Airport. Burnsville itself is a commercial and recreational destination for many, as it is home to Burnsville Shopping Center, the Minnesota Valley National Wildlife Refuge, and the 310-foot vertical ski peak Buck Hill.

In the late 1990s, the City of Burnsville commissioned an arts and culture-focused downtown redevelopment project, which they named The Heart of the City. This project has since brought forth Nicollet Commons Park, Ames Center for Performing Arts, and various mixed-use housing - namely its cornerstone, Grande Market Place.
